

In the unlikely event that a Ryco product is found to be defective due to defects in material and/or workmanship, we will replace it for you free of charge (subject to conditions).

What is covered by this voluntary warranty?

In addition to your rights under the Australian Consumer Law, GUD Automotive Pty Ltd (GUD) provides a LIMITED WARRANTY for RYCO products that expires either 1 YEAR after the installation of the product or upon the expiration of the operation period recommended by the original equipment manufacturer for the vehicle/engine (whichever comes first).

During this voluntary warranty period if any engine or equipment is damaged as a result of the use of a proven defective RYCO product, GUD Automotive will pay to restore the engine or equipment to a condition equivalent to the state of the engine or equipment immediately prior to the damage. Consequential damage claims will not be covered by this voluntary warranty.

Conditions of this warranty

This warranty covers product fitted to vehicles in original condition and installed in accordance with current published vehicle listings.

This warranty does not apply to product that:

- has been subject to misuse, neglect, negligence, damage or accident
- that has been improperly maintained, operated or installed
- has not been installed in accordance with the installation instructions in effect at the time of installation
- has not been installed in accordance with the vehicle, engine or equipment manufacturers' recommendations
- has been fitted to any vehicle that has been changed or modified from original specification
- has not been installed in accordance with current Ryco published catalogue vehicle listings is subject to any other external factor outside the control of GUD Automotive.

How to make a claim

To make a warranty claim you should:

- Return to the place of purchase as soon as practicable after you become aware of the defect
- GUD must then be contacted on your behalf
- Provide description of the fault, application details and any additional information must be provided to assist in warranty assessment
- The product must be returned unaltered and unchanged for GUD inspection
- All receipts must be provided for processing

GUD Automotive may request that you deliver the defective RYCO product to GUD Automotive for examination, with GUD Automotive to reimburse you for your reasonable delivery costs.

GUD Automotive Customer Service can be contacted directly on free call 1800 804 541 between 8am and 5pm EST Monday to Friday or by email at rycoservice@gudautomotive.com

It may be necessary for GUD Automotive to inspect any engine damage. Contact must be made with GUD Automotive to discuss the defective Ryco product before any repairs are carried out.

GUD Automotive will undertake the following actions (if and when required):

- If GUD Automotive requires an inspection of the vehicle or engine to be undertaken, it will arrange (at its expense) for an employee or agent to carry out the inspection as soon as practicable, we will undertake this no more than 14 days after being notified of the defective product.
- If an inspection of the vehicle or engine is not required, GUD Automotive may arrange, at its expense, to collect the defective product.
- Within 21 days of carrying out an inspection or receiving a defective product for examination, GUD Automotive will determine whether the product was in fact defective and whether it is covered by this voluntary warranty.
- In some instances where products are required to be sent to overseas to GUD Automotive affiliates for further assessment, the response period may be extended.
